Town: Careorcyn

This city is centered around a small castle built over the remains of the kaer. There is a stone wall around the castle and a patch of farmland, in case of attack and seige. This city is located in the far north of Barsaive and is constantly worried about attacks from Theran zealots.

Who's Who

Name: Elanydd Ro

Age/Gender/Race: 27/M/Ork

Adept: Scout 8

Elanydd is employed by a crime lord in Kratas, but even he is not allowed to know his employer's name. He is often sent out of town and across Barsaive on jobs for his employer, though he is never given the full purpose of a job. The end result always rests on a combination of tasks being completed, where his task is the only one known to him. He prefers to be traveling all the time, choosing to make camp outside a city, rather than stay at an inn.

Famous (Last) Words

The strength of a civilization is measured not by its ability to fight wars, but by its ability to prevent them.
