Town: Priat

A mining town, this large town (but not quite a city) is home to many weaponsmiths. It is also home to the largest weaponsmith guild outside of Throal. There are very few dwarves here that are weaponsmiths. In fact, though no one speaks of it, 90% of the weaponsmiths are human or elven women. Weapons and armor that are made in this town usually have a thread of orichalcum running through them, to make them more powerful. Every item made here also has a rune marking somewhere to indicate the maker and the location.
