NPC

Name: Thamilon

Age/Gender/Race: 59/M/Elf

Adept: Troubadour 9

Thamilon desperately wants to be a Questor, but he cannot choose one Passion. He's terrified of offending the others. When confronted with difficult situations, he will often act out of an irrational fear of the Passions and their powers. However, most of his time is spent traveling throughout Barsaive and beyond its borders out of sheer boredom. When outside of Barsaive, his fear of retribution is lessened. Instead, he uses his Troubadour abilities and curiosity to inquire about local gods and fears them instead.

The End

"And in the end, it's not the years in your life that count. It's the life in your years."

-- Abraham Lincoln
